TO all agriculturists, therefore, who are in search of an active and permanent manure, and who may have the claims of this article presented to their notice for the first time, the manufacturers would suggest, that the

A Word to the Wise!
HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS
Renner's Chemical Fertilizer!
THE importance of a quick, active and durable Fertilizer, adapted to the soil of our county, is acknowledged by all Farmers. Having satisfied myself, after long study and careful experiment, that F. C. RENNER'S
Chemical Fertilizer
surpasses all others in adaptedness to all kinds of soil, I have purchased the right for Adams county, and am prepared to fill orders for it promptly and on reasonable terms. It is no humbug, but HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY TRIED
by a number of our Farmers, and is admitted by all who have it to be the best in the market, and the cheapest. I am prepared to furnish this Fertilizer in any quantity, and will deliver
In any town or village in the County, when ordered in not less quantity than a TON. I manufacture it for sale at $50 per ton without bags, or $55 in bags. This fertilizer is composed of the best fertilizing chemicals that can be had. I use no oil of vitriol; it does not contain any admixture, therefore I do not use it. Neither do I use lime nor ashes.
THE OBJECT OF THE CHEMICAL FERTILIZER is to introduce a fertilizer that will last for a series of crops—not only for one. It contains sufficient animal matter to mature the grain and make it ripen early, while the ammonia forces the growth. I expect to manufacture a large supply this winter for the spring crops, and therefore invite farmers and the public generally to give it a trial on all kinds of Grains and Vegetables.
CAUTION.—I hereby give notice that Farm Rights hereafter sold unless signed by me, are infringements on my Right, and will be prosecuted and dealt with according to law, from which there is no appeal.
All orders will be promptly attended to by addressing

Deep in the forest stands he there,
His gleaming axe cuts crashing through,
While winter whistles in the air,
The oak's tough trunk, and flexible bough.

Upon his floor a leafy bed
Conceals the grass, and o'er his head
The leafless branches trimly rise,
The lattice of his painted skies.

Within the tree the circles are,
That years have drawn with patient art;
The dry leaves whisper to his ear—
He stops to hear the cheering sound.

Nought but the drifting cloud o'erhead,
Nought but the stately pine afar;
A glaze o'er all the picture spread,
A medium that far suns prepare.

Above the wood the ravens call,
Their dusky murmurs fill the space,
And snow-birds toss above the wall,
And flickering shadows in the place.

In distant grove the fox-hound bays,
Where fainter strokes of axes beat,
And thin snow drives across the ways,
Untrampled by the woodman's feet.

Beneath his axe the green moss grows,
Its cups stand stately in their stems;
Above the rocks divine repose,
With bright red in diadems.

His house is 'neath a pine at night,
A nest beyond the next stone wall;
The sky his roof so true and tight,
The ground hard timber for his hall.

The stone his chair, the cushions moss,
With linches varnished neat and fine;
His flagon is a spring, its boss
Some twisting bramble thorn and vine.

THE FADING LEAF.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The fading leaf of the forest tree gives notice that another summer has been numbered among the things that were, and that the chilling blasts of winter will soon be upon us. A voice from the north—a voice that cannot be misunderstood—has already breathed a hoary whiteness on the sylvan glen which late the feathered tribe made vocal, as well as the green meadow where but a few days since the laborer, by the sweat of his brow, earned that wherewith to sustain himself and family, and tells one and all, "Be ye ready," for ye know not what a day may bring forth.

How aptly do the seasons illustrate the several stages of human life, and how much of sorrow, of misery, of crime, would be alleviated, if not avoided, were impotent man to follow, as far as his power extends, the course which Nature, under the guidance of a benign Providence, so plainly indicates. Thus, with the man who is dependent on his daily labor for his support:—why does he pass the spring and summer of life in the vain pursuit of those phantoms of the imagination which can never be realized, when the genial suns of spring and summer daily call his attention to the seed which is fast ripening, which must soon be gathered, and separated from the chaff?—Let the young of both sexes, who are passing away their hours in blissful ignorance and unprofitable pleasures, answer the question, and then seriously reflect whether such things ought to be. Why, in the summer and winter of life, when surrounded by an interesting family, does he resort to the intoxicating cup or the gaming table, and with an apathy unbecoming a human being, suffers himself to be carried into the whirlpool of destruction, when the yellow leaf of autumn and the snowy mantle of winter tells him that life is fast hastening to its close, that in a few days or months he must yield the breath of life into the hands of its GIVER, and his body sleep the sleep that knows no waking? Let those who are even at this day causing a heart-broken wife to pine away in sorrow, and the blush of shame to mantle the cheeks of their children, furnish an answer, and then let them pause, ponder, and reflect. HEART-WEALTH—A SKETCH FOR CREDITORS.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

Samuel Veasie, the old East India merchant and ship owner, left a large property to his wife and children. To his three sons he left his ships and his business, together with all the books and papers of his office, and having made the provision he went on in his will to say,—"Among my debtors are many worthy men whom I have not pressed, and whom I would not consign to needless suffering. It is my desire that those who desire forgiveness may be forgiven, even as I pray that my Heavenly Father may forgive me."

When the sons came to take possession of the business, one of their first moves, after having provided for the management of more wealthy matters, was to consider this injunction of their father's will.

"Our father has left us enough," said John, the eldest brother, "and we will not fail to honor his memory and his wishes."

"And lead others to hold that memory green and sacred," added Andrew the second brother. "What says Peter?"

The younger thus addressed, spoke as follows:

"We will not forget our father's oft repeated prayer—"Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," for I think he died with that prayer upon his lips,—or in his heart, at least. I would suggest that Mr. Witherspoon be requested to make out a list of those debtors whom he may judge to be worthy of forgiveness. He has been our father's confidential clerk and correspondent for almost thirty years and probably knows the exact standing and character of every person indebted. Let him give us a list, with such marginal explanation as he may deem necessary, and we can then do as we deem proper in individual cases."

Peter's plan was adopted. The old clerk made out the list, and the amount of indebtedness thus set down, without reckoning interest, was over twenty thousand dollars.

"A big sum," said John, thoughtfully.

"And think of the interest," sugested Andrew.

"Not so big as our father's," added Peter, "and bearing no such interest as I trust his account bears, in heaven."

John and Andrew shook Peter by the hand, while little Sammy, John's son, a lad of five years, asked how an account could bear interest in Heaven.

"Peter must explain that," said his father.

And Peter took the boy upon his knee, and told him what it meant—told him about doing good, and how God loved to have us good to one another, and how we could lay up treasures in heaven. And he asked the boy if he understood; and Sammy said he did.

Time passed on. One cold, bleak day in the late Autumn a woman entered the counting house. She was past the middle age, humbly, but neatly clad, with a face pale and frank, and marked with care. John and Peter were in the office and Master Sammy was in the corner, behind Andrew's empty desk, building houses with old log books.

"Is Mr. Veasie in?" the visitor asked timidly, and with much tremulousness.

"That is my name, madam," returned John, handing her a chair, "and this is my brother."

"Your father held an account, or a note against my husband, and I have come to settle it."

"What is your husband's name?"

"He is dead, sir. His name was Lawrence Patten."

"Do you know what was the nature of the indebtedness?"

"It was a debt of honor, sir; and my husband could only die content when I had promised him, upon my bended knees, that it should be paid. Your father was his bondsman for a large sum. He was collector of taxes, and a partner whom he had trusted ran away with a great deal of his money,—so much, that it crippled him; and would have ruined him, if your father had not saved him. He was a poor man, sir, but God knows he was honest."

The woman wiped her eyes, and little Sammy came out from behind the desk.

"When Lawrence knew that he must die," she resumed, "he placed in my hands all his accounts, and all his property, and he bade me rest not until I had gathered together enough to pay the indebtedness. He said Mr. Veasie had been like a father to him—had put forth his hand and saved him when others had forsaken him,—and he would rather his children should beg than that dishonor should attach to his memory."

"Did your husband owe much else?"

"No, sir. He contracted no debts for his living. This was all,—but it was a heavy debt for him to bear."

"You say, you have raised the money?"

"Yes, sir. The original debt was three thousand five hundred dollars. The interest—he said he didn't think Mr. Veasie would take more than simple interest—brings it up to something over five thousand."

"I will find the account my good old woman, and see how it stands."

Thus saying, John opened a drawer of his desk and drew forth the list which Witherspoon had prepared, and the very first name was that of Lawrence Patten; and against it, in the old clerk's hand, was the following: "An honest man, and poor: His indebtedness entirely the result of the absconding of a business partner." Then John found the note, given nine years before, with the interest, to the time of the clerk's making the list, cast upon the back.

"The principal and interest I find to be five thousand three hundred and eighty-two dollars."

"I know it must be not far from that," said the widow. She shuddered and quivered as she spoke.

"You must find it hard to pay this, Mrs. Patten."

"In one sense it is very hard, sir, but in another it is very easy, because it is right, and because I know my—my husband—would—but—."

She wiped her eyes again, and opened her reticule. Little Sammy began to look indignant. His lids were laden with dew and his bosom swelled.

Just then John Veasie tore the note into pieces; and gave those pieces to the widow, who took them mechanically, and as she clutched them in her hand she drew from the reticule a large pocket book.

"Don't take any money here, my good woman. You owe us nothing."

"But—sir—"

"It is all right. The debt is paid."

"Paid? the debt?'—

"Yes. When our father, in his last hours, came to realize how much he might need for God's forgiving grace, he, in his heart, forgave his worthy and unwilling debtors; and he enjoined it upon us that we should honor his memory among his fellows. Your husband's debt he forgave on earth as he hoped to be forgiven in heaven; and I have canceled the obligations."

For a time the widow sat like one in a dream. Then she folded her hands, and tried to speak; but tears and sobs choked her utterance. Finally she raised her streaming eyes towards heaven, and to God she found speech. She blessed the sons; and she prayed that all joy and peace might be theirs forever and forever. She was happy—very happy; life now offered her hope of comfort. She would go to her home, and she would teach her children to bless the memory of Samuel Veasie, and to pray for the good of his sons. And with a face more radiant than she had worn for months, she turned from the office, weeping still in the exuberance of her joy.

John wiped his eyes and looked up:

"Peter, what do you think of that?"

"I was thinking," replied the younger brother, "what we ought to pay Andrew for his share of the heart-wealth of this scene."

"Uncle Peter, isn't this what you told me was laying up treasure in heaven?"

"Yes, yes, my boy!"

"And won't Uncle Andrew own his share of it up there where God is?"

"Yes—yes!"

A STORY WITH A MORAL.—A Connecticut exchange tells the following story of a boy who was sent from Croton to New London one day last summer with a bag of corn. The boy was gone all day, returning the bag unopened, which he dumped on the floor saying:

"There's your corn; go and sell it, I can't."

"Sold any?"

"No, I've been all over London with it, and nobody said anything concerning green corn. Two or three fellows asked me what I had in my bag, and I told them none of their buisness what it was."

The boy is not unlike many hundreds of merchants who will promptly call him a fool for not telling what he had to sell. They are actually doing the same thing on a much larger scale than did that boy, by not advertising their buisness.

TO KILL CATTLE LICE.—Water in which potatoes have been boiled possesses a poison fatal to lice. Dip into it a large sponge or woollen cloth, and wash the cattle freely, choosing a sunny, warm day for the operation, and as their hides dry, comb them with a currycomb, and see for yourself the effects of the water. In England, cattle of all kinds are curried, as well as horses, and they are improved in flesh and health by the operation. Irishmen always curry their pet cows, and their hair is sleek and soft.

WHILE Rev. M. Ferry, a local Methodist preacher, was addressing a congregation at Columbia, Brazono county, Texas, on the evening of the 8th inst., six armed desperadoes entered the church and fired on and killed him instantly. Rev. Mr. Hardwell, the minister in charge, who was sitting in the pulpit, was knocked down by one of the ruffians; but as he is a very powerful man, he rallied and took the weapon away from his assailant. The assassins then ran out of the house.

THE MORMONS.

In the Washington Chronicle appears an article of nearly three columns, headed "Overland to the Pacific—A Conversation with Hon. Godlove S. Orth—Description of a Trip over the Pacific Railroad from Omaha to San Francisco." It is a detailed account of a conversation with Hon. G. S. Orth, of the Committee on Foreign Affairs. What we here give concerning the Mormons is extracted from the article in hand, and is printed in Mr. Orth's words:

SALT LAKE CITY.

Without excusing, but reprobating, the religious views of the Mormons, no one can fail to admire that devotion to conviction which induced three women and one hundred and forty men, under the lead of Brigham Young, to flee from persecution and penetrate an unbroken wilderness, and seek a home among mountains which should be inaccessible to their enemies. The patient toil, the long suffering, and fatiguing journey of these 143 Mormon pioneers, over plains as cheerless as those of Arabia, and over mountain ranges and through mountain gorges, until then only traversed by the Indians, exposed to hunger and thirst and disease, will form a page in our history long to be remembered. Each recurring anniversary of their landing in the valley is duly observed and celebrated, and on the 24th of July, 1869, at least 140,000 Mormons in various parts of Utah joined in this anniversary.

Every part of the territory through which I passed gave evidence of the industry, thrift, and sobriety of the Mormons. They have taken possession of a valley sterile by nature, and by a system of irrigation, costing much labor and money, have converted it into a land of beauty and exceeding fertility. Their farms, villages, and cities all bear the impress of their constant thrift and industry. Good houses, highly-cultivated fields, and abundant crops are visible on every side. As a general rule all towns and cities have their parallels, but Salt Lake City is an exception to all, and in hardly anything resembles any city in the world.

ITS LOCATION

is exceedingly beautiful. On the east side it is encircled by the Wahsatch range of mountains, whose snow-clad peaks apparently overhang the city, yet distant twenty miles, such is the illusive character of their pure atmosphere. These snows furnish streams of the purest water, for irrigation and other purposes. On the west stretches the great Salt Lake, the body of water fifty by seventy miles in extent; while north and south is the valley, teeming with its busy population. The city occupies a level plain, and all its streets are threaded by pure snow-water from the mountains, giving cheerfulness and health, and so promoting growth. What about twenty years ago was without tree or even shrub, now presents almost a forest of shade and fruit trees of almost endless variety. The squares are large, from one to four acres, in the centre of which you will find neat, substantial, and elegant buildings.

POPULATION, STRUCTURES, ETC.

The population is about 20,000, of which less than 400 are Gentiles. A more quiet, cleanly, peaceable, and orderly community I have never seen. The structures of most general interest are the tabernacle, theatre, and city hall. The temple is not yet above the foundation, and my prediction is that it will never be erected on the scale of its projector; though a devout Mormon assured me that if President Young so ordered it could be finished in ten years, as 30,000 men would, in that event, abandon all else and devote themselves to the building of the temple. But Brigham Young is too prudent a man to issue any such order. The theatre is a massive and elegant structure, most elaborately finished. It will easily, I am told, seat 3,000 persons. When I visited it the play was well rendered, mostly by amateurs, including some members of President Young's family. There were present thirty-six of Young's children. The audience, in general demeanor, comeliness of person, and neatness of apparel, (numbering about 2,000,) compare favorably with any audience in an Eastern theatre. And yet this is 2,500 miles west of the Atlantic, and in a community where the earliest settlement dates only twenty-two years in the past.

The new tabernacle is peculiar in its design and architecture. Approaching the city, its roof looms up in the distance like the back of some gigantic elephant. It will seat comfortably 10,000 persons, and the voice of the speaker is distinctly heard in every part of its vast arena. It contains an organ, not yet finished, which, when completed, will be second only to the Boston organ in size and power. It is being built exclusively by Mormon artisans. Rev. Dr. Tiffany, one of our party, of the Methodist Church, was tendered the use of the tabernacle by Young, which he accepted, and on Sunday afternoon preached to the largest indoor audience of his life, there being nearly six thousand persons present, of whom less than two hundred and fifty were Gentiles. This liberality of the Mormons is usual in tendering their house of worship to a Gentile. It is worthy of praise and imitation. Brigham Young is a gentleman of refinement and intelligence, about seventy years of age, and in a fine state of physical preservation. That he is a man of mark is abundantly attested by his success in life, and the authority which he exercises over the thousands who acknowledge him as their chief.

ESCAPED FROM MORMONDON.

Not very long since the annexed appeared in the New York Sun:

Yesterday we were favoured with a call from a bright eyed, ruddy cheecked, intelligent Scotch lassie of seventeen, who has just escaped from Salt Lake City, and is on her way back to her parental home in Scotland. Her name is Emily Jane Kane. She is a native of Glasgow. Her father, formerly a respectable stevadore of that city, is dead, and Emily and her widowed mother, among numerous others, were converted about two years ago to Mormonism by some proselyting elders of the sect. Glowing pictures were presented to the converts, especially to the comely and marriageable damsels, of the comforts and delights of a life in the terrestrial paradise of the Saints in Utah, and the young girl, by dint of hard work and strict economy, was enabled to save enough of her hard earnings to start, with a steerage full of fellow-converts, on the 28th of July, for the promised land. The passage was without adventure.

They arrived in New York city on the 12th of August, and in Salt Lake City on the 21st. Vehicles met them at the station, and Emily found an elderly Saint of sixty seated by her side, who told her that he had a good home and wanted her for a wife, and would take good care of her if she would have him. Naturally staggered by this abrupt proposal, she begged a little time for reflection, and on arriving at the city she found that the gray-headed Lothario had already three wives and numerous children.

Emily and her fellow-voyagers opened their eyes to the existence of polygamy. On the first Sunday after her arrival she heard the great Brigham preach a sermon, in which he said that a man who had not at least three wives would surely be damned, and that every man ought to have from seven to ten to be sure of salvation.

Emily, who has the true stuff of a heroine in her composition, soon resolved to escape from the wretched life before her at all hazards. She fled to a camp of United States soldiers near the city and threw herself on their protection. The soldiers contributed enough to pay her passage to Omaha; then she sold the few spare garments in her little bundle and got money to pay her fare to this city.

Yesterday she walked the piers, looking for some vessel bound to the Fatherland. The poor girl's appearance attracted the notice of Harbor Master James M. Thompson, a kind hearted official, who at once took a fatherly interest in her. He went to his friends, Captain Edward Howard and Captain C. P. Raymond. Together they called on Messrs. Miller & Conger, General Abram Duryea, and other South street merchants, who promptly contributed funds to pay Emily's expenses to Scotland, and today she sails in the steam packet. We asked her why she did not remain in this country; she said, in reply, "I want to go back to tell our people the truth about Mormonism; to let them know what a vile imposture it is." Emily, we think, will prove a sharp thorn in the side of the missionaries.

VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX'S SPEECH AT SALT LAKE.

Mr. Samuel Bowles, the editor of the Springfield Republican, has just made a visit to Salt Lake City, and has written a letter to his paper giving an interesting account of the present condition of affairs among the Mormons. He visited Salt Lake in 1865; and this second trip has enabled him to judge intelligently of the progress made there during the past four years.

The Pacific Railroad does not run direct to Salt Lake City, but there is to be a branch road from Ogden, on the main line in the valley, forty miles distant. The railroad has destroyed such monopoly of the trade of the interior settlements as was formerly enjoyed by the city; but the city itself does not seem as yet much changed by it. The valley of Salt Lake is very fertile, and some land there, on which wheat had been grown for eighteen successive years, and corn for two years, without any manure, yielding this year fifty bushels of wheat to the acre.

The recent speech of Vice President Colfax created considerable excitement in the territory. He frankly told the Mormons the popular opinion of the nation on their institution of polygamy, and on the means by which they are seeking proselytes.—Great feeling was manifested by the large audience, composed of about equal numbers of Mormons and Gentiles.

After Mr. Colfax's speech, Porter Rockwell, the famous leader of the Danites, addressed the crowd. The Danites are the Church assassins, and for many years this Rockwell has been employed to dispose of Mormon recusants by murder. Rockwell's speech was a commingling of bold profanity and denunciation which was keenly relished by the Gentiles, but under cries of "Go on—tell us all" he was hustled from the stand by the faithful.

Brigham Young's policy in reference to trade has been to confine the Mormon business to Mormon merchants. This has proved temporarily successful. The principal Mormon traders have been forced to surrender their business to Mormon co-operative stores. All these establishments are forced to put up the sign, "Holiness to the Lord," "Church Co-operative Store," or something similar. There is, however, one Gentile firm in Salt Lake City which does an immense business and undersells the Mormons; but the faithful are for the most part afraid to buy there.

The persecution of the Gentiles has driven many of them to Corinne, a growing place on the Pacific Railroad in the valley, sixty miles from Salt Lake. An effort will be made to establish the capital of the Territory there.

The Episcopalians form the principal Christian denomination in Utah. At Salt Lake City they have a church and school, both very successful.

The country is generally healthy; but Mr. Bowles says that lately "there has sprung up a great mortality among the young children here, quite equal to that in the crowded cities of the East. The Mormons employ no doctors, or very rarely, trusting to the intelligence of the mothers, and to the laying on of hands by the bishops, to cure cases of sickness."

Mr. Bowles thinks that intercourse between the Mormons and the rest of the world will distroy polygamy in Utah. The dynasty of Brigham Young is certain to die with him. The Pacific Railroad has borne to the Saints of Salt Lake City the inevitable doom of their sacred institutions; and, as Mr. Bowles writes:

"Whether it was bravado or conceit that inspired Brigham Young to say that 'his was a d—n poor religion if it wouldn't stand one railroad,' if he lives five years more he will have to accept the adverse judgment upon his religion, or change his mind as to the power of a railroad."

THE miners of pumice in Thrasia, an island of the Grecian Archipelago, have struck the walls of buildings belonging to an ancient city, which is believed to be older than Pompeii. Curiously wrought vessels were found, filled generally with barley, which, in some cases, was in a state of perfect preservation. Weights used by weavers of old to stretch their cloths upon the frames were also found, together with rude saws and other implements, made of stone. M. Foque, the superintendent of the mines, has sent many of these curious objects to Paris, with a report, in which he says that the pumice deposit came from some volcanic eruption, which covered this and other cities, as lava flooded Pompeii and Herculaneum.

ANOTHER bad kerosene accident—this time in Boston. Mrs. Sweeney would fill a lighted lamp. An explosion, of course. The poor woman ran into the street, her clothing all on fire, and the passers-by took off their coats and wrapped them around her, which showed them to be more sensible than passers-by usually are. The unfortunate woman, however, was dreadfully burned, and was carried to the City Hospital. This method of committing suicide seems to be about as firmly established in America as ever the charcoal pan was in Paris.

THE Columbus (Ohio) Journal tells of the marriage of a couple in that city on Thanksgiving Day, the gentleman aged sixty and the wife fifty, who had been engaged in early life, had quarrelled and each married to another. They had not seen each other for twenty-five years; one had become a widow and the other a widower, when a union between them was arranged by a mutual friend, and the first view of each other since their youth was when they met in church to be married after this long separation.

MR. Nathan McGraw, of Rostraver township, Westmoreland county, has an apple tree growing in front of his door which was planted in 1767—one hundred and two years ago. It is one of nineteen which were brought over the mountains on a pack-horse the fall of that year, and planted by Dr. Hammond. The ground was known as Hammond's Park, and the deers destroyed all but this one. It is a sound, healthy tree yet, and appears to have vigor enough to last another century.

CONGRESS.

The second session of the 41st Congress will commence on Monday next—the law now providing for three sessions. The first session was held last March, when the organization was completed by the election of Speaker, Clerk, &c., and the appointment of standing committees, so that there will be no delay now, and both Houses will at once enter on legislative business.—It is not likely, however, that much will be accomplished until after the Hollidays. The session promises to be an interesting one, and will probably extend over into the summer of 1870, as important questions in relation to National Finances, Resumption of Specie Payments, the National Bank system, Income Tax, &c., will claim attention, on which there will be wide differences of opinion.

The roll of the House, as prepared by Mr. MCPHERSON, the Clerk, embraces exactly two hundred names. It does not include the name of COVODE, nor of the contestant, FOSTER, and all cases of like nature, held for determination, are not embraced in the list.—The eight members elected from Virginia will not be sworn in, if at all, until the State is admitted. Alabama furnishes six members, but they have not yet taken the oath. SHELDON, of Louisiana, is the only member yet entitled to his seat from that State out of the five districts. Texas, if admitted, will furnish four members, and Mississippi five, and when the case of Georgia is finally decided seven Representatives will be furnished by that State, so that the roll will show a list of about two hundred and thirty members when all the States are admitted, which it is believed will be done before the adjournment of the coming session.

A number of Senators and Members are already in Washington, but most of them are said to be reticent as to the policy to be pursued on any queston.—They all seem disposed to wait until the President's message is made public for suggestions, and indications are that they will be controlled to a large extent by his recommendations and those of the heads of departments.

A vigorous effort will be made by the friends of Cuba to secure some decisive action, in recognition of the belligerent rights of the struggling Cubans, or, failing in that, they may press for a repeal of our neutrality acts. The Spanish representatives are sensitive as to the position our Government may assume, and the action of Congress will be looked to with interest. It is likely, however, that the recommendations of the President, whatever they may be, will be sustained. Through the State Department, the President is fully advised as to the true status of the Cuban question and its bearing on our foreign relations; and while our sympathies are with the Cuban insurgents it is not probable that Congress will adopt any hasty, ill-advised legislation, prejudicial to the national interests.

The revision of the Internal Revenue laws will claim attention. It is said that a formidable movement will be made to repeal the Income Tax, which expires by limitation next June. It will doubtless be continued with some modications, probably exempting all incomes under $2,000, and reducing the tax on incomes above that. The Income Tax is an unpopular one in practical administration, exposing as it does the private business and pecuniary standing of citizens, and leading to frequent fraud and perjury. For all that is realised from it, it might as well be abolished.

As a return to specie payments is desirable, as soon as it can be effected without serious financial revulsions, the matter will be pressed on the attention of Congress. Western and Southern Members will generally resist all legislation looking to forced resumption, and will urge an increase of the National Bank issue as necessary to meet the increasing business wants of their sections. The act of Congress creating the National Bank system limited the aggregate amount of capital. The capital has all been absorbed, mostly by the Eastern Banks which promptly organized under the law.—The South, being in Rebellion, got little or none, while the Western States and Territories demand increased banking facilities. The advocates of an immediate resumption of specie payments oppose any increase of the paper currency.

THE prices of Grain and Flour have been gradually declining in the West until it is reported that "the farmer is now selling his wheat for a lower price in currency than he got in gold before the war," and it is apprehended that the prices of pork will also give way as soon as the crop is thrown upon the market. In addition to this, money is scarce in all the commercial centres, and everywhere there is a marked indisposition on the part of the banks to discount; so that between the high rates of interest and the low prices of breadstuffs and produce, the West is decidedly "hard up," and fears of a financial panic are entertained. The effects of the monetary stringency in the West will soon be felt in the East; but we think that anything like a general crash need not be looked for, though doubtless there will be business men here and there that will have to succumb to the pressure. Whilst it is evident, therefore, that the country at large is to experience tight times, to a greater or less extent, it is comforting to know that the end of high prices in almost everything will be hastened thereby.

THE Court of Appeals of the State of Maryland last week unanimously sustained the injunction granted by the Baltimore City Circuit Court, preventing the City Councils from enforcing the ordinance to loan $1,000,000 to the Western Maryland Railroad, to complete the road to Hagerstown and Williamsport. The ordinance is held to be in contravention of a section of the State Constitution which provides that no such municipal subscriptions shall be made without the assent of the Legislature and a majority of the tax-payers. Steps will be at once taken by the friends of the enterprise to secure a new ordinance in conformity to this provision of the Constitution, to be submitted to the Legislature and voters of the City for approval. As the enterprise is a popular one, the movement will no doubt be successful—the only effect of the injunction proceedings being to delay the work.

DURING the Rebellion, and pending the measures that led to the abolition of Slavery in the United States, Northern conservatives and enemies of emancipation predicted that the result would be to flood the Northern States with negroes. The fallacy of the prediction is being realized every day.—Colored men in the Border States, now that Slavery is abolished everywhere and the oppressive statutes of the Slave code have been swept away, flock further South. So extensive has been this exodus from the Border States that the Richmond Whig draws attention to it as a matter likely seriously to affect the interests of labor. The colored man will naturally seek the warmer climate of the South, and fields of labor where his race is sufficiently potent in numbers and political power to command favorable legislation, and where ampler scope is presented for the development of his industrial energies.

THE Rebel element of Mississippi is supporting LOUIS DENT for Governor, but make wry faces in doing so. Their choice is between ALCORN and DENT—both claiming to be Republicans, the one Radical the other Conservative.—The Louisville Courier thus expresses the position of its Democratic friends in Mississippi:

> "Dent is not the candidate whom the Democracy or Conservatives of Mississippi would choose if they felt their liberty of choice untrammelled. He is only the least evil of two evil alternatives. He is, as some writer expresses it, 'a compromise between hell and the iron works.'"

ALBERT D. RICHARDSON, an attache of the New York Tribune, and author of "West of the Mississippi," was shot in the Tribune office on the night of the 25th, by Daniel McFarland, a New York lawyer. The deed was committed suddenly and before Mr. Richardson could protect himself. It is believed that the wound will result fatally. Jealousy on the part of Mr. McFarland is said to have prompted the assault.—His wife recently succeeded in securing a divorce, and McFarland charges Richardson with being at the bottom of it.

THE General Synod of the German Reformed Church is in session at Philadelphia, Rev. Dr. GERHART presiding. We noice among the preaching appointments, last Sabbath, that of Rev. Mr. DEATRICK, of Gettysburg, for one of the Lutheran churches. The Synod has been largely occupied with discussions growing out of liturgical questions. A majority of the Classes having decided in the affirmative, the word "German" is now stricken from the title of the Church, and it will be hereafter known as "The Reformed Church."

AN EXCITING SCENE IN THE COURT ROOM.—The court room, on Monday afternoon of last week, was the scene of an unusual and exciting occurrence. A young lady who had been cruelly wronged, and had sought redress through the strong arm of the law, and finding that process rather a tedious one according to her notion, undertook to take the case out of the hands of the court and jury, by inflicting a sudden and terrible punishment on the young man who had robbed her of all that is dear to woman's heart—a virtuous name. Several hours before the tragic scene in the court room, the young lady in question had procured, at one of our drug stores, a quantity of sulphuric acid which she put in a common tin cup, and carefully concealed the same under her shawl. She took a chair inside the bar with her attorneys, and when her betrayer came into her presence, she motioned him to come to her, and when he had reached the proper distance she threw the contents of the cup at him, intending to strike him in the face, but as he dodged, the greater portion was received on his head. This scene created quite a buzz in the court room. Lawyers in the vicinity of the affair had their broadcloth ruined, for wherever the acid touched, a brilliant scarlet was produced. The young lady was immediately arrested and sent to jail, while the injured youth was placed under medical treatment, and is doing well. Subsequently the woman was taken out of jail and held in $1,000 bail for her appearance at the Quarter Sessions.—Bedford Gazette.

UNITED States Commissioner Betts, in a case before him recently, decided that the delivery of a letter to the authorised agent of a person to whom it is addressed, terminates the connection of the post office with it, and the subsequent embezzlement by such agent is not an offence against the United States, but can only be taken cognizance of in the State courts.

A PANIC in a Methodist Church, in Troy, New York, caused by an alarm of fire, was recently quieted by an ingenious expedient. The floor having caught from a defective flue, a rush was made for the doors, women and children were screaming and fainting, the men were pushing and struggling to escape, when some unexcitable person, with great presence of mind, struck up a familiar hymn, others joined in the air, and during the singing partial quiet was restored. During this brief interval the fire was extinguished.

THE savage brutality and unreliability of Lynch law have just had a marked illustration in Tremont county, Iowa. It appears that a man, styled by the telegraph "a noted ruffian," was a few days ago lynched in that locality by a Vigilance Committee for the alleged murder of another man. Since that event the presumed victim has made his appearance unharmed. In the case of the lynched man, it was probably an example of the logic involved in the old fable of the wolf and the lamb. If not guilty of one murder, he was of another—and that decided his fate.

ON Monday evening the two thousand and thirty-fourth anniversary of the institution among the Jews of the Feast of Channkah, or the Feast of Dedication, was begun. The observances are somewhat in imitation of the festivities described in the second book of the Maccabees. During the continuance of the feast, which closes on the 7th of December at sunset, offerings of bread and wine are made, and there are also social gatherings of friends and kindred.

HYDROPHOBIA—TERRIBLE DEATH.

Our city on Thursday was the scene of a most heart-rendering occurrence—a death by hydrophobia. The victim of the fearful malady was a young man by the name of John Alexander, son of J. W. Alexander. The young man had been bitten by a rabid dog as long ago as the night of the 20th of last August. He did not know at the time that the dog was mad. He sought professional advice, but was assured by the physician that he was in no danger. The scratches and wounds healed quickly, and and he thought no more about the matter until last Tuesday night, when, after being intiated a member of the Ashland lodge of Good Templars, he experienced, on taking a drink of water, a most singular and unpleasant feeling in his throat, but he soon got over it. He was troubled with nothing more unpleasant until Wednesday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, when, on again attempting to take a glass of water, he found he could not drink. He then immediately suspected the cause of his sickness, and determined to fully test it. He tried to force water into his mouth with a spoon, but his arm gave a spasmodic jerk, sending the spoon flying through the air, and he fell back unnerved and wild and sick, both from the effects of the malady and the horrible certainty of his rapidly approaching fate.

He was confined to his bed all Wednesday night. On Thursday morning he got rapidly worse, and continued to suffer most terribly till the time of his death. The agony he endured no words can describe; and the physicians attending him said his were the most fearful suffererings they ever had witnessed. He howled and snarled and barked like a dog. He scratched and clawed at the bed clothing until it was almost torn to shreds. Spasms and convulsions succeeded each other, racking his tortured body and causing him to foam at the mouth like a wild and rabid animal, and, in his frenzy, the veins would swell as if they would burst, and he would bark and cough as though his lungs would be forced up, and blood would gush in streams from his mouth and nostrils. The bed, on which he was held down by strong men, was saturated through and through with the crimson stream.

Strange to say, he was conscious nearly the entire time, and devoted and self-sacrificing, he firmly insisted that none of his agonized and weeping relations should be allowed to come near him, as he was afraid he might injure them. His father, who had been absent, arrived a little while before his death, but on being told that he had come, he exclaimed, "Don't let him see me."

At about two o'clock his sufferings became even more intensified, and he screamed and shrinked, "Water! water! force it down me! Oh, death, hurry, hurry!" His attendant physicians, who had done all in their power to alleviate his sufferings, again administered chloroform most copiously, and its soothing and pain-deadening effects came with thrice blessed power breaking the force of the last fearful moments of suffering, and the unfortunate victim of that most horrible of all maladies, hydrophobia, escaped from his tortures at quarter past two o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Alexander was only nineteen years old, had lately joined the Baptist Church, and was known as a most excellent and industrious young man. He frequently pointed his finger heavenward just before he died, and declared his desire to be at rest.—Lexington (Ky.) Observer and Reporter.

THE CROP REPORT.

The monthy report of the department of agriculture for October—which is on our table—shows a fair average, taking all the cereal and root crops into the account.

The corn crop in the nothern, eastern, middle and southern States was below the average, but west of the Missouri it was unusually large.

WHEAT.—Had the spring wheat been equal to the winter, the crop would have been enormous. In the south the yield is unprecedented, and taking the whole country over the crop is much above the average.

COTTON.—More than a million of acres were added to the cultivated area, and 2,750,000 bales is the estimated yield.

OATS.—Few of the States show less than ten per cent. increase, and the grain is generally of a superior quality.

RYE.—The crop, upon the whole, is about an average.

BARLEY.—The quality is generally good, and increase about 15 per cent.

BUCKWHEAT.—This crop is less than an average, except in the New England and northwestern States.

POTATOES.—The crop is a failure in the southern and Atlantic States as far as New York. The crop is a good one in New England, and unusually so in the west. Sweet potatoes show a decrease.

TOBACCO.—But little over two thirds of a crop is anticipated.

SORGHUM.—The crop has failed to a considerable extent.

A slight increase is reported in the aggregate number of fattening cattle, as well as in the average condition.

The largest average amount of rain fall for the month is reported from Minnesota, 9.72 inches, and the smallest average quantity in Illinois, 2.05 inches. The highest average mean temperature was in Florida 78.9 degrees, and the lowest in Minnesota, 59.1 degrees, except in Montana, which is reported at 51.4 degrees.

Two maiden sisters, named Polly and Sally Reed, aged 85 and 87 years, respectively, lived together, in scanty circumstances in the town of Brookfield, Madison county, New York, and their only recreation was quarreling with each other regularly twice a week, on the most trivial provocation. The neighbors became so accustomed to this continued wrangling that they took no notice of it till it ceased, which it did on Thursday a week. One of the neighbors on that day entered the dwelling and found Polly dead on the floor, weltering in gore, and Sally lying on the bed in a dying condition. Both were terribly mutilated about the head and shoulders. Just before she died Sally said that she had quarrelled with her sister; she had seized a stick of wood, and Polly secured the pair of tongs, and with these weapons they had belabored each other as long as they could use their hands. They were so poor that the County Commissioners had to provide burial for the bodies. Neither could read or write, nor had they ever attended Church or Sunday School, as far as was known.

ANOTHER MURDER ON BROADTOP.—The Bedford County Press says: A man whose name we were not able to learn, living near Dudley, in the Broadtop region, inhumanly murdered his son on last Thursday evening. He had been on a spree, and returning home in the evening, fell to abusing his wife. The son interfered, and put the old man out of the house, but he regained admittance, and on entering struck the boy, knocking him down, and immediately setting upon him with a stone, beat his brains out. He was arrested and taken to Huntingdon on Friday. This is the second murder that has been committed on Broadtop within the past two months.

THE statement is made in several European papers that it has been decided in the Vatican that Pere Hyacinthe shall not be admitted to state his case and expose his ideas before the Œcumenical Council. If he presents himself he will be ordered back to the Pontifical frontiers, and if he insists the gendarmes will escort him beyond the lines.

The teacher is employed by the Freedmen's Bureau and her boarding only paid by those sending to the school.

DEATH OF A MILLIONAIRE MISER.

On Wednesday morning, Nov. 24th, a little bedroom in the highest story of Taylor's Hotel, in Jersey City, was broken open by the bill collector when he found that no answer was made from within to his calls, and the lifeless body of one of the oldest boarders in the house was found sitting upright in a chair before the table. The man was very old, and had been for years subject to disease, and the discovery that he had at last died alone and without warning, though a matter of surprise and regret, did not cause suspicion. For five or six years the old man, who dressed in the roughest garments, had been gliding silently from his garret to the dining room and back again to to his retirement. What his occupation was no one knew, or seemed to care. Only one person was ever admitted to his room. This was the chambermaid, who was permitted to arrange his room while he was at dinner. When questioned, the girl replied always that there was nothing remarkable in the room, except the absence of anything to make it comfortable. A few old coats, coarse shirts and patched boots there were, and two trunks old and battered. There was one singular circumstances connected with the man's life. Though meanly clad, he was among the promptest in paying his bills.

The old man was without friends, and during the six years of his abode in the house no one came to see him. It was know by the proprietor, however, that he had a sister living at Groton, Conn. His name, Lyman Allyn, was known to none but the proprietor and bookkeeper. What were his antecedents, his resources, or his occupation, no one could ascertain.

When he was found dead, the servants were ordered to lay him out and watch by the corpse until his friends, if he had any, could be called. This morning they came, a sister, a brother in law and two nephews. They said he was born in Connecticut in 1797, and had many years ago been a commission merchant in New York, where he amassed a large fortune. What had become of it they did not know. They soon learned where he kept a part of it, however, for upon unlocking one of the trunks a heap of bonds and stock, gold and currency, was found tumbled carelessly in. An examination showed that there was property in the room worth over $600,000, besides securities for large sums elsewhere. A will was found among other papers, dated fifteen years ago, bequeathing the entire property his sister and her children.

The evidences of the old man's meanness were plentiful in the narrow room, and the sight of his ragged garments, in which he clothed himself, brought tears to the eyes of his sister. The miser died as he had lived, alone.—New York Post.

A REMINISCENCE OF THE WAR.—There are historical characters to be found even among the much-abused female clerks of the Treasury Department. In General Spinner's bureau there is a young woman hailing from Winchester, Virginia, who possesses a memento which many of your rich aristocratic young ladies would be proud to wear. It is a watch and chain, presented by General Sheridan as a recognition of eminent services which she rendered the Union cause during Sheridan's campaign in the Shenandoah Valley. Almost as valuable as the watch, in her estimation, is the following letter in the General's own handwriting, which, I need hardly say, could not be purchased with money:

"HEADQUARTERS DEP'T OF THE GULF,
"NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7, 1867.

"MY DEAR MISS WRIGHT: You are probably not aware of the great service you rendered the Union cause by the information you sent me by the colored man a few days before the battle was fought on the Opiquan, on September 19, 1864. It was on this information the battle was fought and probably won. The colored man gave the note, rolled up in the tin foil, to the scout who awaited him at Millwood. He had carried it in his mouth to that point, and delivered it to the scout, who brought it to me. By this note I became aware of the true situation of affairs inside the enemy's lines, and gave directions for the attack. I will always remember this courageous and patriotic act of yours with gratitude, and beg of you to accept the watch and chain, which I send you by General J. W. Forsyth, as a memento of September 19, 1864.

I am, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
PHILIP H. SHERIDAN,
Major General.

MISS REBECCA WRIGHT, Winchester, Va.

The above letter secured Miss Wright a place in General Spinner's bureau, which he says she will hold as long as he is Treasurer of the United States. The colored man who carried the note has not been found, but if he should ever turn up, and prove his identity, Sheridan will take care of him.—Correspondence Sunday Dispatch.

STATISTICS of immigration for the year ending June 30, 1869, show the total number of immigrants for the year to have been 352,569. Of these, 214,748 were males, and 137,821 females; 232,198 were between 15 and 40 years of age, 79,803 were under 15, and 40,568 were over 40; 258,754 came to the port of New York, and 12,490 to that of San Francisco. The arrivals at Huron, Michigan, were 35,586, and at Detroit 3,396, showing an accession of nearly 40,000 from Canada. In nationality, 122,227 were Germans, 80,286 were English and Scotch, 24,224 Swedes, 16,068 Norwegians, and 12,874 Chinese. More than half the men were laborers, farmers and servants. Against this increasing tide must be set off an outgoing one of 85,000 more passengers by the various steamship lines than have arrived, so that our net gain in population is a little over 800,000 souls.

THREE boys, aged respectively 4, 6 and 8 years, were recently found in a low grog shop in New York insensible from the effects of whisky given to them by their mother.

BIBLE DISTRIBUTION IN ADAMS COUNTY.

The work of Bible distribution in this county was thoroughly performed [illegible] by a number of [illegible] of the College and Theological [illegible] in Gettysburg, and it has just been completed, as far as the town of Gettysburg is concerned, by committees appointed by the Ladies' Bible Society of this place. The result of this exploration and resupply, condensed from the reports of the canvassers of the town and county, is as follows:

Number of families visited,	4,723
Of these, there were reported as belonging to the Roman Catholic church,	418
Number of families found destitute of the Scriptures,	230
Families supplied,	127
Bibles sold,	482
New Testaments sold,	563
Bibles given away,	74
New Testaments given away,	53
Value of the books sold,	$764 51
Value of the books given away,	45 00
Contributions received,	156 40

It may be interesting to the friends of the Bible cause to contrast with this the result of an exploration performed by the students of the Theological Seminary in 1840, viz:

Families visited,	2647
Families destitute,	457
Bibles sold,	204
New Testaments sold,	256
Bibles given away,	164
New Testaments given away,	168

From this comparison it appears that, whilst the number of families in the county has nearly doubled, the actual number of those destitute of the Scriptures was only one-half, and the relative proportion, therefore, only one-fourth! How sadly different the result would have been, had no previous explorations been made!

It will be gratifying also to those who love the Word of God, to learn, that in not a single instance were those who thus carried it to every house in the county rudely repulsed or unkindly treated. They met everywhere with hospitable treatment.—And, whilst but few, comparatively, of the Roman Catholic population were willing to receive the Holy Scriptures "without note or comment," there was no disposition manifested by this class of our fellow-citizens to enter into controversy with these Bible bearers. Nor was it the wish of the Societies that undertook this canvass that such controversy should be courted. It is coming. And the day is probably not far distant when the question will have to be decided, by public discussion, by the pulpit, by the press, and finally by the ballot—God grant that it may not be by the bullet!—whether the Bible is to be, as heretofore, really free in this land or not! Meanwhile, let its friends diligently scatter it everywhere. It is its own best champion.

It will be further gratifying to those who delight in the spread of the Scriptures to know that Bible Societies have been recently organized in most of the principal towns of the county, viz—in Fairfield, Littlestown, Oxford, Abbottstown, Berlin and York Springs; and that in all these places depositories have been established, from which any destitution of the Scriptures that may from time to time be discovered in the vicinity may be promptly supplied. Similar societies will probably be established hereafter in the remaining towns and villages of the county, directly auxiliary, like all the rest, to the Pennsylvania Bible Society. And it is probable that a County Society may then be organized that will hold its annual conventions successively in these various towns, and keep up a lively interest throughout our borders in this truly Christian and patriotic work. This plan has been pursued elsewhere with most gratifying results. Such annual conventions, composed of delegates from all the local societies in the county, have proved to be most delightful re-unions of evangelical Christians of all denominations, and have exerted a very happy influence upon the communities in which they have been held.

OUR COMMON SCHOOLS—NO. 3.

COUNTY INSTITUTES.

Next week will witness the annual reunion of the Teachers of the county. It is hoped every Teacher in the county will be present on Monday and will continue with us during the week.

Are Institutes of any practical benefit?—We answer, that they are. No Teacher can attend one of our annual meetings without going to his work the better qualified for it. No one can attend without carrying with him new ideas and valuable facts received from the Educators, whom they have heard.

But the greatest benefit arising from Institutes is not perhaps the actual knowledge gained. They create and foster a professional feeling; they elevate teaching to the dignity of a profession. Just in proportion as this professional feeling is increased, will Teachers be recognized as occupying a high, a responsible position. Every Teacher who labors for the dignity of the profession, works directly for his own pecuniary and social advantage.

Let us briefly recount the bill of fare provided for your entertainment during Institute week.

Prof. Robert Kidd, of Indiana, one of our most celebrated and successful Elocutionist, will be present the entire week.—His evening Entertainments will consist of selections entirely different from any he has yet given in Gettysburg. Let every Teacher in the county avail himself of this opportunity to gain practical instruction in Elocution and Reading.

Prof. A. N. Raub, of Lock Haven, will be present the entire week, giving instruction in Orthography, Arithmetic and Grammar. During the week he will deliver his popular Lecture entitled "Life and Living."

Prof. J. V. Montgomery, of the Millersville Normal School, will give instruction in Geography, Penmanship, drawing, and a variety of kindred subjects.

Col. McFarland, of Harrisburg, who lost a leg upon the Seminary Ridge in the battle of Gettysburg, will on Thursday address the Directors of the county upon the subjects of School-buildings and School Furniture.

Hon. Henry Houck, Deputy State Superintendent, will assist us during the greater part of the week. He will be happy to meet all the Directors of the county.

Prof. Edward Brooks, Principal of the State Normal School, will lecture on "The Spiritual element in Education," and give instruction in various branches.

Rev. Edsall Ferrier, of Pennsylvania College, will lecture on "The Loneliness of Hamlet," and give a black-board exercise in words. Other instructors will be present.

A String Band will be present at all the evening sessions. The exercises will be interspersed with Contests in Orthography, singing by choirs of children from the Gettysburg Schools, Class drills in History and Mental Arithmetic, and a variety of features which have been arranged and matured since the publication of the Circulars.

No Teacher can afford to be absent a single day. Let us show that we are determined to advance our profession to the proud position which it should occupy.—Teachers having the "New Coronet" or "Silver Lute," will please bring them with them for the in Institute singing during the day sessions.

J. HOWARD WERT,
County Superintendent.

THE Lancaster Intelligencer says that Mrs. Daniel Peterman, of that city, while eating a boiled potato on Sunday felt some hard substance between her teeth, which on examination proved to be a child's gold ring set in garnets. None of the family can imagine how the ring got into the potato, which was grown in their own lot, and no such a ring ever belonged to any of the family.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS for December, winds up the story of a "Bad Boy," which has afforded so much delight to its readers during the past year. It contains "How to do it," by Rev. E. E. Hale; "Hot Buckwheat cakes," by H. L. Palmer; "How Battles are Fought," by Major Traverse; "How a Ship is Modelled and Launched," by J. T. Trowbridge, and other good things. The publishers offer an attractive programme for the coming year. Our Young Folks has steadily improved of late, so that it would be hard to concieve of a better juvenile magazine. With the resources, however, of the publishers, and their evident determination to excel in every respect, we may anticipate something wonderful in the year 1870.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—Godey presents a real gem for December. The embellishments excel in attractiveness any before given. Nameless and Friendless is the title of the first steel plate.—Then comes a handsome title page, with tableau pictures, representing children engaged in Christmas sports. A colored fashion plate. Cushion in bead-work, handsomely printed in colors. Extensive sheet. Skating customs. A page containing fifteen designs of bonnets, hats and head dresses. A good variety of other useful and ornamented designs are scattered through the number. In the literary department a grand array of literary celebrities in the magazine have contributed a rich feast. Now is a good time to make up clubs for this old favorite. One copy one year $3,00. Address L. A. Godey, N. E. Cor. Sixth and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for December, closes up the year well. Mr. Parton continues his Washington sketches, this time under the title "Uncle Sam's treatment of his Servants." It is an able exposure of some of the evils of our civil service as at present conducted. "The Dead Level," by F. Sheldon, treats of certain characteristics of modern society.—John Hay rehearses the play of Joseph Smith, "The Mormon Prophet's Tragedy." Mr. Hale continues his "Brick Moon," "The Foe in the Household" is concluded; and Dr. Jarvis gives more of his valuable statistics on the "Increase of Human Life." Among the other readable papers is A. D. Richardson's sketch of the California Chinaman, under the simple title "John;" F. A. Walker "American Industry in the Census," and "Under the Midnight Sun," by Dr. Hayes. Among the specialties of the coming year are a new novel, "Joseph and his Friends," a Pennsylvania story by Bayard Taylor; sketches of Adventure in the Arctic regions, by Dr. Hayes; and letters on Financial subjects by General Walker.

THE DECEMBER "RIVERSIDE," in closing the volume, brings forward some of its old and favorite contributors. Mr. Herrick gives the frontispiece, "Wood Hauling,"—a picturesque scene familiar to country eyes; Hans Anderson tells a Danish story; the Editor completes his account of book-making by a description of binding, illustrated by eight sketches, and also tells a Christmas story. Miss Thomas has a thrilling account of some children who once were caught on a Mississippi floe of ice. The "Yo-Semite Fall" has a picture, and Mother Goose has four very pretty vignettes. Hunting in South Africa is described by an old hunter; Sophie May, of Prudie fame, tells of her "Higgins Fright;" and an annonymous writer describes old-fashioned times in New England. Darley, the artist, illustrates some scenes from Scott; and Harry Bolingbroke describes a mimic encounter in a duck pond. Finally, a "Christmas Carol" from the French, with an English translation, holds the last page; so that music is heard as Volume III. disappears, and all young eyes are turned to Volume IV., of which an an ample programme is given. Published by Hurd & Houghton, New York. Subscription, $2.50.

THE MAGAZINES FOR DECEMBER.—The Galaxy closes a good record for the year with a number more lively and readable than ever. It contains a great variety of matter on topics of interest. Mrs. Edwards goes on with her story of "Susan Fielding," displaying her talent in conversations, a strong insight into one class of human nature, and an easy, pleasant style. Charles Reade works up stage effects, makes good points, and has his heroines both silly and unnatural, in his usual style. The best short story that has appeared in any of the magazines for months is by Anthony Trollope. It is well concieved, told and original. "A November afternoon" by Mrs. R. H. Davis is another strong, good story, and a third by Edgar Fawcet, "A Marriage and a Theory," makes up that very extraordinary thing in magazine literature, three good short stories in one number. R. G. White, the apostle of reform, has taken "The Morals and Manners of Journalism" in hand and evidently has arranged his subject into three heads: what ought to be, what is, and what must or shall be. The secretary of the late Cardinal d'Andrea tells the story of the death of his master in a simple, straight-forward way, but making out of the facts a story that is more like romance than history. The other articles are all good and the "Nebulæ" is of especial interest.

FIRE IN A MANAGERIE.—On Friday last, the building occupied as winter quarters for Forepaugh's Managerie, at Connerville, Indiana, was discovered to be on fire, when the superintendent ordered the animals to be let loose. This, in the end, proved needless, for the fire was arrested before doing much damage. A lion had an encounter with a bull, which he finally killed, as well as several sheep on the fair grounds. All the wild animals were, eventually, safely recaged. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The damage amounts to $4500.

A MAN recently arrived in a town in Minnesota, bought a lot, built a house, and set up housekeeping within the space of forty-eight hours, and had a son and heir born to him before the first meal was eaten in the house.

THE ONLY RELIABLE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA IN THE KNOWN WORLD.

Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial are a positive and infallible cure for dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing.

They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate it, root and branch, forever.

They alleviate more agony and silent suffering than tongue can tell.

They are noted for curing the most desperate and hopeless cases, when every known means fail to afford relief.

No form of dyspepsia or indigestion can resist their penetrating power.

DR. WISHART'S
PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs. It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation. It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:—

Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office parlors. Associated with him are three consulting physicians of acknowledged eminence, whose services are given to the public free of charge.

This opportunity is offered by no other institution in the country.

Letters from any part of the country, asking advice, will be promptly and gratuitously responded to.—Where convenient, remittances should take the shape of

SPECIAL NOTICE.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord.—No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood, then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.—He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

Gettysburg, Friday, Dec. 3, 1869.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.—Christmas is near at hand and preparations are being made for the holidays. Those who wish to reap a harvest should advertise extensively and now is the time to do it.

FOR WASHINGTON.—Our colleague, Hon. EDWARD MCPHERSON, leaves to-day for Washington to resume, his duties as Clerk of the House. His friends will be glad to know that his health has been materially improved by his European trip.

DEDICATION.—The new Church of the United Brethren in Christ, near Hoke's Gate, on the Baltimore pike, will be dedicated on Sunday nex. Religious services will be held in the Church to-morrow.—Rev. Mr. Young will be assisted by the Presiding Elder, Rev. W. B. Raber.

SALES.—Mr. John Duttera has purchased the Warehouse at Guldens Station, with about four acres of land and a small brick house, for $2,900.

Mr. Jeremiah Slaybaugh has sold his property, in Huntinton township—42 acres of land with improvements, to Mr. Amos Classick, of York county, at $2,150.

BORDER DAMAGES.—An organized effort is being made by the members of the Bar of Adams and adjoining counties to prosecute the claims for damages sustained in the border counties during the War. A meeting of the Gettysburg Bar was held yesterday, and steps taken to move efficiently in the work D. Wills, Wm. McClean and J. C. Neely, Esqrs., were appointed a Committee to complete the arrangements. See adv. in to-days paper.

IN OFFICE.—On Wednesday last, Messrs Wolf and Swope, entered on the discharge of their duties as Clerk of the Courts and Register and Recorder. It is due to the retiring officers, Messrs. Minter and Holtzworth, to say that they were clever and accommodating officers.

On Monday next, Judge McCurdy and Sheriff Klunk take possession of their respective offices. Sheriff Hann has courteously administered the Sheriff's office, and retires with the good opinion of all having official relations with him.

DEDICATION CEREMONIES.—The ceremonies connected with the Dedication of the new Odd Fellows' Hall, in York Springs Borough, will take place on Tuesday next, Dec. 7. The dedication ceremonies will take place in the Hall at 12 o'clock, M., after which a Procession will be formed in front of the Hall, marching up Carlisle stree and returning to Harrisburg street; out Harrisburg street to State street; thence to Main street; up Main to the Hall; after which the Address will be delivered. We presume the exercises will be public.—If the day prove favorable, there will be a large turn-out.

S. S. ENTERTAINMENT.—Don't forget the Entertainment to be given in Agricultural Hall to-night by the Sabbath Schools of St. James Church. The cause is a good one. Besides, the programme promises to be unusually interesting. The Schools have been preparing the exercises with much care, and, being efficently officered, cannot fail to be a success. One piece along will require 60 scholars to fill the parts. In another 45 Infant scholars will appear, and 36 in another. There will also be class singing, duetts, trios, quartettes, &c., the whole making up an attractive programme. Let there be a full house.

THE ADVANCE.—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is a good judge of newspapers, and he says of THE ADVANCE, published in Chicago, "I regard it as standing fairly on the highest ground yet reached by religious journals in America." Dr. Horace Bushnell adds the opinion that "it is the ablest, best and most outspoken paper published." It is an unsectarian, wide-awake, aggressive, and readable Family Journal, having for special contributors such writers as Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Senator Wilson of Massachusetts, "Grace Greenwood," Alice Cary, etc. By special arrangement with the publishers we are enabled to club the THE ADVANCE with the STAR AND SENTINEL, at $3.50 per annum.

ELOCUTIONARY ENTERTAINMENT.—Let no one neglect to hear Prof. Kidd next Tuesday evening in the Court-House. His selections will all be new. Price of admission 25 cents.

Tickets admitting to both of the Entertainments and Prof. Kidd's Day-Class for the entire week, (seven lessons), $1.00.

Tickets admitting a gentleman and lady to both of the Evening Entertainments and to the Class in Elocution, for the entire week, $1.50.

Reserved seats during all the day exercises in Elocution, for all who purchase the week tickets. Tickets can be had at the book-store of A. D. Buehler, and at the stores of J. L. Schick and Fahnestock Brothers. J. HOWARD WERT.

COURT DOINGS.—We annex a record of the criminal cases disposed of after we had gone to press last week:

Com. vs. John L. Getz.—Indictment for robbery of a watch of John M. Swan, on the 1st of July, the day on which the National Monument was dedicated. The watch was violently taken from Mr. Swan's person and subsequently found on the Taneytown road. Getz undertook to show that these was a mistake as to identify, and succeeded in inducing the Jury to render a verdict of Not Guilty.

Com. vs. Thomas J. Moore.—Laceny of a pocket book of Alexander Beuchoff, containing $144. Verdict guilty, and defendant sentenced to Eastern Penitentiary 15 months.

Com. vs. Christian Schefferer.—Forcible Entry and Detainer, on information of Ottimar Thrum. Verdict, guilty as to Forcible Entry. Sentenced to pay $1 fine and costs.

Com. vs. John Bergan.—Surety of the Peace, on information of Henry Grace. Complaint dismissed and Deft. ordered to pay costs.

Com. vs. Jesse Wagner.—Surety of the Peace, on information of Wm. Reary. Complaint dismissed and prosecutor ordered to pay costs.

Com. vs. Edward Wayner.—Charge Adultery, on information of Eleanor Chase. Verdict, not guilty.

COMMON PLEAS.

But two cases were tried in Common Pleas, all the others having been settled or continued. Both suits were brought by Eli Horner vs. William McKinny, on Sci. Fas. to revive Judgments. The original judgments were given in 1841. McKinney died last September, leaving an interest in some real estate which was attached by Plaintiff. In the one case the verdict was for defendant, and in the other for Plaintiff for $107.31.

The case of Samuel Lilly vs. Frank Body—motion to open up judgement and allow defendant to enter defence—was argued and the motion allowed. The judgment was entered for $900. Body claims that it was fraudulently entered for that amount, the real sum being $500, and so made oath. Lilly swore just as positively that the real sum was $900. The original judgment has disappeared from the Prothonotary's office, and hence the trouble. In fault. A good deal of testimony was taken pro and con, and the time of the Court was occupied Monday and Tuesday in hearing the testimony and argument.

NOTICE.—Orders for the Howe Sewing Machines should be directed to Gettysburg, instead of Granite Hill, as heretofore. 2t

THE TAX ON FARMERS.—The Department at Washington, in reply to an inquiry as to the liability of farmers to be taxed for selling their produce from a shop or stand, gives the following:

A person who sells his own farm-produce from a wagon, driving from house to house, is exempt by law from paying special tax as peddler; but a person selling his own farm produce from a shop or stand is not so exempt by law. He is liable to a special tax of $10 as retail dealer if his annual sales exceed $25,000, but if exceeding the latter sum he is considered a wholesale dealer. Dealers who sell less than $1,000 per annum are not liable to pay special tax as such.

You will perceive that a farmer selling his own farm produce from a stand in market is liable to a special tax as dealer, if his annual sales exceed $1,000.

On the 25th ult., the Commissioner decided as follows, as reported in Int. Rev. Record, vol. 10, page 66: "A person who sells fruit and vegetables from a store or stand is liable as a produce broker (providing he has not already paid special tax as a dealer) even though his annual sales, including sales of all other merchandise, do not exceed $1,000, and without regard as to whether the fruits and vegetable are of his own raising or not.

If, therefore, a farmer selling his own farm produce from a stand should not be liable to special tax as dealer (his annual sales being less than $1 000,) he would be liable to a tax as produce broker. The definition of a produce broker in the law is as follows: "Every person other than one having paid the special tax as a commercial broker, or cattle broker, or wholesale or retail dealer or peddler, whose occupation it is to buy or sell agricultural or farm products, and whose annual sales do not exceed $10,000, shall be regarded as a produce broker. If the annual sales exceed $10,000 he is considered a commercial broker, &c.")

THE CHICKEN DISEASE.—The chicken disease continues to prevail to a considerable extent in some sections of this and adjoining counties, and any remedy which will check it will prove of value to those concerned. The Lancaster Examiner says that the disease is congestion of the liver and claims that a certain cure has been discovered by Mr. George W. Mehaffey, of Marietta. Last year Mr. M' lost a large number of chickens of choice breeds, among which were some fine Brahmas. This year, when the disease manifested itself, he began treatment, and was successful in curing all cases.—The remedy consists in administering a two-grain calomel pill—one pill to be administered each morning. Two pills usually effect a cure, and three are certain to do it. Mr. Mehaffey has cured some very desperate cases by this treatment. Any druggist can prepare the pills.

☞ Benjamin Craig, colored, died recently in Franklin township, aged 106 years. He claimed to have seen Washington as he passed through this county to quell the Whisky Insurrection in the western part of the State.

"The citizen of Watertown, N. Y., who, poor in this world's material goods but rich in love, took his sick wife, a few months ago, to Gettysburg, Pa., on a wheelbarrow, hoping that she might obtain relief at the Springs, is returning from his fruitless visit. On Thursday he reached Newark with his two bright-eyed children, still heroically trundling his wheelbarrow, too poor to obtain other means of conveyance and too proud to ask or accept charity."

We find the above paragraph going the rounds of our exchanges. It will be news to the good people of Gettysburg. Somebody has been hoaxed. Nothing is known in these parts of the man with the "wheelbarrow."

YORK SPRINGS BOROUGH AND VICINITY BIBLE SOCIETY.

A meeting of the friends of the Bible cause was held in the Evangelical Lutheran Church, York Springs, on the 15th of November, 1869. Addresses were made by Rev. C. A. Hay, D. D., and Rev. J. H. Torrence. The following officers were elected:

President—H. C. Peters.
Vice President—John A. Snowden.
Secretary—A. S. Hartman.
Treasurer—Gen. W. W. Stewart.

The following persons were appointed solicitors for contributions:

Amos C. Myers and Miss Mattie McCleary, Lutheran; Isaac Saddler and Miss Debbie Tudor, Methodist Episcopal; Wm. T. Brandon and Miss Kate Stewart, Presbyterian; Dr. J. H. Marsden and Miss Emily L. Wolford, Episcopal; Hon. Daniel Sheaffer and Miss Mary Mumper, German Reformed; John S. Chronister and Mrs. Benjamin Shelley, United Brethren; Moses Vanscoyoc and Mary Wierman, Friends; George Wyant and Mrs. Margaret Deardorff, German Baptist.

Eighteen Dollars were subscribed by those present. On motion adjourned.

☞ Circumstances control some men, other men control circumstances. Four hundred thousand dollars' worth of goods, above and beyond the apparent and ordinary demand, would throw most men into a fever, if not sink them in helpless despair. But Messrs. Wanamaker & Brown seem equal to any emergency, and the people are showing their appreciation of their pluck by handsomely patronizing the Sale.

"No customer must be allowed to leave the store unsupplied." That is one of the orders given at Oak Hall for the present crisis. Not that the salesmen are to be rudely importunate, or to try to over-persuade any one, but that such pains shall be taken to suit, and such accommodation made on prices, that all will, of their own free accord, desire to buy. 1t

BAD PRACTICE.—You might as well expect to relieve and cure an inflamed eye by dusting irritating powders into it, as to expect to subdue and cure Catarrh (which is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the air passages in the head) by the use of irritating snuffs or, strong, caustic solutions. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh by its mild, soothing action, which subdues the inflammation and restores the natural secretion of the mucous follicles. The proprietor, R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, offers $500 for a case of Catarrh that he can not cure. Sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents. Address the proprietor as above.

For sale by most druggists everywhere.

☞ We take it for granted that by this time all our patrons have visited Philadelphia, and attended the great sale now in progress at the great Oak Hall Buildings of Wanamaker & Brown. All whom we have met with have expressed their surprise and gratification at the rare bargains they were able to effect there. Any man will miss it who lets the chance slip, and any mother will miss it who does not see to it that "the boys" are well provided for in this emergency. 1t

OVERCOATS.—For real service and comfort, there is nothing like a good overcoat. Nothing helps us so well to defy the cold and storms of winter, and nothing is so great a protection to our health. Wanamaker & Brown have "spread themselves" on their overcoats this season, and offer a rich variety of gloriously warm overcoats at very low prices. 1t

A WIDE-AWKE YOUTH'S PAPER.—The Youth's Companion, of Boston, announces nearly a score of regular contributors for 1870. Many of them are among our best known and most brilliant writers. 1t

☞ Sixty-five thousand dollars have been expended on the house and grounds of the Hollidaysburg Seminary, and the result is, one of the most elegant educational establishments in the country. 1t

☞ The Howe Sewing Machine sold on trial. 1t

THE CRISIS.—People in this section have not yet had any chance to be benefited by the crisis, in financial affairs. An opportunity is now offered to those who wish to avail themselves of it—in the reduction of prices of Goods.—A fine quality of six quarter Waterproof, Black and White, for 1.15; Extra fine Gold mixed at 1.50; Fine Chinchilla Coating at 1.25; Good all wool Cassimeres for 1.00; all other Goods in proportion. In short, the intention is to make "a change in the base of operations." To satisfy all that this is no humbug we refer, by permission, to F. D. DUPHORN, store North West corner of the Square. A few more of those forty cent Hoop Skirts on hand. Dec. 3 1t

CONSOLING.—It is certainly a great consolation in these hard times, when every one complains of the scarcity of money, to know there is one man who appreciates the present condition of affairs, and who is willing, so far as his limited means will allow, to help every one who will take our advice, (which is given through kindness to our readers,) out of their troubles. He does this by offering his stock of Dry Goods, Notions and Queensware, at greatly reduced prices—so low that he scarcely has a profit sufficient to pay expenses. His store is on the North-west corner of the square. His name is FRANK D. DUPHORN. nov. 26—tf

BIERBOWER'S SEGARS have become noted for their high flavor, and every body who knows anything about good Tobacco has got in the habit of going direct to his establishment in the northeast corner of the diamond—fully assured that they can get just what they want, the very best Segars, made of prime tobacco, highly-flavored, and what is better still sold at prices that can't be beat in or out of the city. Strangers can't mistake the place. "Punch" always stands at the door, good humoredly inviting the passer-by to enter and enjoy the good things to be found there—Segars, Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, of the best brand, Merchaums, Pipes, &c.

HORRIBLE DEATHS

Occur almost everyday from the explosion of Coal Oil Lamps.

Coal Oil has become so inferior now-a-day as to render it unsafe in its use as an illuminating or burning fluid.

"KING'S NON-EXPLOSIVE BRILLIANT ILLUMINATING FLUID,"

is the article that now far excells the Coal Oil, in its safety, brilliancy and economy. It is perfectly safe, being a Non-explosive Fluid, inasmuch as a lighted match may be thrown into the bowl of the lamp, while burning without danger of explosion.

It is void of grease, but can be used for removing the same from wood or any fabric.

It is a trifle cheaper than Coal Oil and every family should use it, and do away with this

THE HUSKING PARTY.

BY MRS. JOSEPHINE KNAPP.

'Twas in Ezekiel's barn one night,
The first of gray November.
Some fifty years ago—I'm right
If well I do remember.

The barn sat on a lofty hill,—
I'd better said a mountain;
And O, it was tarnation chill,
And frozen was the fountain.

And 'tother side, stood the old shed,
Where 'Zekiel made the cider;
In front there lay a pummy bed,
Where stood old Granther Ryder.

And down the road, all full of fun,
The boys and gals were coming,
While Zekiel's wife, and young Miss Dunn,
Around the room were running.

Then in the barn 'twas soon they gather'd,
Oh! such tarnation chatter:
You couldn't hear a common sound—
'Twas chitter, chitter, chatter.

There was Nancy Lee and Mary Doe,
And Augusta Folsom singing,
And young Jim Huckins all aglow,
Beside of Margaret Wiggin.

There was Ellen Sanborn with an ear
Of corn as red as any fire,
And cunning Frank with a leer
Jest getting up a little nigher.

And round the pile, jest out of sight,
From where the lantern's swinging,
Was Sanford in a merry plight,
As Melissa's voice was singing.

"O, do get out—why what a critter,
I am almost out of breath,
You've kissed me till I'm all a titter,
And hugged me most to death."

And then upon the other side,
Close up beside the barn,
Sat pretty Jim, his hair all ile,
Keeping Lucinda warm.

The hours passed by, as in the barn
Was frolic, mirth and fun,
Till soon the heaping pile of corn
Was finished and all done:

Then Zekiel took us into tea,
Where everything was nice,
With good baked beans and pumkin pies—
All fixed with luscious spice.

'Twas soon they cleared the things away,
While the old folks went to bed,
And Oh! such times, 'twas truly gay,
'Twould craz'd a sleepy head.

We danced and glided round the room,
While Sans he sat a fiddling,
Till young Miss Dunn fell over the broom,
Which set us all a giggling.

As Frank, the mimic and the clown,
Was reeling with his Ellen,
He stepped upon her bran new gown—
The rest, oh! that is telling.

Then such a snarl as we got in,
Such shouting and such laughter,
As Joe was wrestling out and in
With Folsom's pretty daughter.

And thus did end our happy glee,
As we went home together,
O, a husking, that's the kind of spree,
No matter what's the weather.

THE HONEY BEE.

These noble and industrious little insects formerly so plenty are becoming comparatively scarce, for want of attention by our farmers and others. Adams county has in general good pasturage for bees, especially the Italian. There is no branch of Agriculture or Horticulture, that pays better than the apiary by proper attention. There is no more use in hiving a bee and then letting it have its own course, than to plant corn in a sod without plowing and then sit down and expect Nature to bless us with an abundant harvest. They want attention and must have it, and then they will pay us abundantly for our trouble from their sweet store. From reports received from the several States, we find a great scarcity of honey for wintering except in Northern Missouri and Southern Iowa. Large numbers must inevitably die during the winter if not attended to. They should be fed.—One of the best ingredients for this purpose is sugar syrup. To prepare this, take good brown sugar, place it in a vessel with a little water, simmer till it attains the consistency of common molasses, skim off impurities and place in the hive above, in old comb or shallow dish, placing a few shavings with it to prevent the bees from drowning. Farmers look at your apiary, and if you find any that you think will not live we urge you to feed them and they will pay you abundantly for your trouble from their "sweet store" in the future. Do not resort to murdering whole colonies for the sake of getting a few pounds of honey; or for the worse than foolish reason that "they won't live till spring, and may as well be killed to get what honey yet remains," but—

Save your time, for time is money;
Save your bees to make you honey,
And don't apply the brimstone match
Depriving purse of so much cash.

CASHTOWN, Nov. 20, 1869.

FATTENING FOWLS FOR MARKET.

As the time approaches for fattening and preparing fowls for market it would be well to note a few facts relative to the process to be used, also the proper varieties of fowls to fatten—those which bring the highest prices in the market. It may not be well known by the breeder that it is not always the largest fowls that sell the readiest and bring the best prices; such, however is the fact.

The epicurean looks long and well before he makes his purchase. His selections are made not so much as to the weight of the carcass as to the choice of breeds. The flesh of the large breed of flowls is coarse and stringy, while that of the smaller, short-legged breed is sweeter and more nutritious.

Our advice to those preparing fowls for market is to select from their broods the short, yellow-legged kinds of whatsoever breed they have. It is generally conceded that the Dorkings are the best table fowl; but even the common native breed are equally as good as the Dorkings, if not better, if well fattened, which cannot be done without some little trouble and painstaking, which, however, will be repaid in the end.

MODE OF FATTENING.

There are almost as many modes recommended for fattening fowls as there are breeds, and every one imagines his process the best. We have fattened fowls thoroughly in a fortnight from the time we cooped them for that purpose, in the following manner:—Put the fowls into coops as usual, but where they can get no gravel.—Keep corn in their feed boxes all the time, and also give them corn meal dough, well cooked, once a day. For drink give them fresh skimmed milk, with a sprinkling of charcoal well pulverized in it. With this feed they will fatten in ten or twelve days. If they are kept over that time they should have some gravel, or they will fall away. We have tried the above mode for several years and never new it to fail. Of course, it must be understood the fowls should be kept perfectly dry and the coops clean.

The English mode is to keep the fowls separated, allowing to each bird as much space as can be spared; spread the ground with sharp, sandy gravel; and take care that they are not disturbed. In addition to their regular diet of good corn, it is recommended to make them a cake of ground oats, beans, brown sugar, milk and mutton suet. Let the cake lie till it is stale, then crumble it and give to each bird a gill, morning and evening.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper.—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet in grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rake out, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

John Deardorff, Sen.,
Ephraim Lady,
George Lady,
Jonathan Wisler,
James Mickley,

Also, WIRE-TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rakes. Also, PLOUGHS, FANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOSEPH WIBLE & SONS, Gettysburg, Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

April 23.—tf WM. WIBLE, Agent.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain.—It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KEELER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Chambersburg Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

May 28, 1869—tf LEWIS A. BUSHMAN.

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

CLEANER AND BAGGER,

With the latest improved Triple-geared Horse Power, either Gear or Belt.

This machine has successfully competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever produced; in fact, the only Separator and Cleaner ever before the public to give general satisfaction.

The machine is conveniently arranged for hauling and threshing, being permanently fixed on two wheels. One man can easily move or shift it about, so that it is not half the trouble on a barn floor as a common thresher and shaker. It is also easily put in operation. It is simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact and cleanly to work by while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separators.

Farmers can rest assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers that are using them we must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want.

The following are a few of the persons who have used this machine, well known, and to whom the public are referred for further information:

Wm. J. Peters, Flora Dale, Adams co., Penna.
Wm. Kohler, near New Oxford, " "
John D. Pfoutz, near Gettysburg " "
Henry Harbold, York Springs, " "
Daniel Peters, Bendersville, " "
John Waltman, McSherrystown " "
Michael Fiscel, Mountjoy twp., " "
John Small, McSherrystown, " "
Wm. F. Brandon, York Springs, " "

Repair Castings for the above machine will be kept by the Agent, and also by Ephraim Fiscel, near Gettysburg.

All orders for the Separators can be addressed to ABRAM BURKHOLDER, Agent, Clearspring, York co., Pa.

FORTY THOUSAND

CASES OF GOODS

were shipped from our house in One Year, to families, clubs, and merchants, in every part of the country, from Maine to California, amounting in value to over

ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

Our facilities for transacting this immense business are better than ever before. We have agents in all the principal cities to purchase goods from the Manufacturers, Importers, and others, for CASH, and often at an immense sacrifice on the original cost of production.

Our stock consists, in part, of the following goods:—

SHAWLS, BLANKETS, QUILTS, COTTONS, GINGHAMS, DRESS GOODS, TABLE LINEN, TOWELS, HOSIERY, GLOVES, SKIRTS, CORSETS, &c., &c.

SILVER-PLATED WARE, SPOONS, PLATED ON NICKEL SILVER, DESERT FORKS, FIVE-BOTTLE PLATED CASTORS, BRITANNIA WARE, GLASS WARE, TABLE and POCKET CUTLERY, in great variety.

ELEGANT FRENCH AND GERMAN FANCY GOODS, BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS, the newest and choicest styles in Morocco and Velvet Bindings.

MOROCCO TRAVELLING BAGS, HANDKERCHIEF AND GLOVE BOXES, &c.

GOLD AND PLATED JEWELRY, OF THE NEWEST STYLES.

We have also made arrangements with some of the leading Publishing Houses, that will enable us to sell the standard and latest works of popular authors at about one-half the regular price:—such as BYRON, MOORE, BURNS, MILTON, and TENNYSON'S WORKS, in fall Gilt and Cloth Bindings,—and hundreds of others.

ONE DOLLAR FOR EACH ARTICLE.

We do not offer a single article of merchandise, that can be sold by regular dealers at our price. We do not ask you to buy goods from us unless we can sell them cheaper than you can obtain them in any other way,—while the greater part of our goods are sold at about

One-Half the Regular Rates.

We want good reliable agents in every part of the Country. By employing your spare time to form clubs and sending us orders, you can obtain the most liberal commissions, either in CASH or MERCHANDISE, and all goods sent by us will be as represented, and we guarantee satisfaction to every one dealing with our house.

Agents should collect ten cents from each customer and forward to us in advance, for Descriptive Checks of the goods we sell.

The holders of the Checks have the privilege of either purchasing the article thereon described, or of exchanging for any article mentioned on our Catalogue, numbering over 350 different articles,—not one of which can be purchased in the usual way for the same money.

The advantages of first sending for Checks are these:—We are constantly buying small lots of very valuable goods, which are not on our catalogues, and for which we issue checks till all are sold; besides, in every large club we will put checks for WATCHES, QUILTS, BLANKETS, DRESS PATTERNS, or some other article of value, giving some members of the club an article for about one quarter of its value.

In every order amounting to over $50, accompanied by the cash, the Agent may retain $2 00, and in every order of over $100, $3.00 may be retained to PAY THE EXPRESS CHARGES.

This offer is more especially to assist Agents in the Western and Southern States, but is open to all customers.

COMMISSIONS:

Agents will be paid ten per cent, in Cash or Merchandise, when they FILL UP THEIR ENTIRE CLUB, for which below we give a partial List of Commissions;

FOR AN ORDER OF $30, from a club of Thirty, we will pay the Agent, as commission, 28 yds. Brown or Bleached Sheeting, Good Dress Pattern, Wool Square Shawl, French Cassimer Pants and Vest Pattern, Fine Large White Counterpane, etc., or $3.00 in cash.

WM. KNABE & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT

PIANO FORTES,

BALTIMORE, MD.

These instruments have been before the Public for nearly Thirty Years, and upon their excellence alone attained an unpurchased pre-eminence which pronounces them unequaled. Their combines great power, sweetness and fine singing quality, as well as great purity of Intonation, and evenness throughout the entire scale. Their is pliant and elastic, and entirely free from the stiffness found in so many Pianos. In they are unexcelled. Using none but the very best seasoned material, the large capital employed in our business enables us to keep continually an immense stock of lumber, &c., on hand.

TONE

TOUCH

WORKMANSHIP

Our SQUARE PIANOS have our New Improved Over-strung Scale and the AGRAFFE TREBLE.

We would call special attention to our late improvements in

GRAND PIANOS AND SQUARE GRANDS,
Patented August 14, 1866,

Which bring the Piano nearer perfection than has yet been attained.

Every Piano fully Warranted for Five Years.

P. BENTZ, York, Pa., Sole Agent for the above celebrated instruments, is by special arrangements enabled to furnish them at the Very lowest factory prices.
